MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 28.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage), PER MONTH, 30c. ; PER YEAR, $3.50.

The following comparison is an exact record of the actual, regular, bona-fide editions of THE WORLD printed during the week preceding and

t election;		i
ore election.	After election.
267,360	265,590	ı
262,510	265,540	ı
257,060	259,560
258.660	317,940	ı
253,680	284,250	ı
260,180	377,850	ı
256,050	293,070	ı
		ď
107,420	107,060	ı
	267,360 262,510 257,060 258,660 253,680 260,180 256,050	267,360 265,500 262,510 265,540 257,060 289,560 258,060 317,040 253,660 284,250 260,180 377,850 256,050 293,070

We, the undersigned, the paper manufacturers ho supply the white paper used by the New York World, hereby certify that we have carefully examined the above statement of circulation, and solemnly owear that it corresponds with the amount of white paper supplied by us, used by THE WORLD and charged up to them (in accordanse with our method of charging THE WORLD EACH DAY ONLY THE PAPER ACTUALLY USED AND PRINTED) during the two weeks specified.

BULKLEY, DUNTON & CO.,
by DAVID G. GARARRANT.
YORK HAVEN PAPER CO.
BUSQUEHANNA WATER-POWER AND PAPER CO.
GLENS FALLS PAPER MILL CO.,
by WM. B. DILLON, Manager of Sales.
W. H. PARSONS & CO.,
by W. H. PARSONS.

BULKLEY, DUNTON & Co.,

State of New York, City and County of New York, sa.: Personally appeared before me DAVID G. GARABRANT, of Bulkley, Dunton & Co.; WM. B. DILLON, manager of or the Vork Haven Paper Co., the Susquehann Water-Power and Paper Co. and Glens Falls Paper Mill Co., and W. H. Pansons, of W. H. Parsons & Co., ng known to me, did append their signature er of Deeds, City and County of New York New York, Nov. 19, 1887

ADVERTISING RATES.

(Agate Measurement.) Ordinary, 25 cents per line. No extra price for ac ceptable display. Business or Special Notices, opposite Editorial page, 3O cents per line. Reading Notices, starred or marked "Adet,": First page, $1.50 per line; Fourth page, $1.25 per line; Inside page, $1

The rates for advertising in the Daily WORLD do not up ply to the Evening tours. Nor do the rates of that teen apply to the Morning Edition.

MR. RANDALL'S POSITION.

Mr. RANDALL would assume a responsibility for himself and his party that no Democrat can afford to incur, in standing out for a total abolition of the internal revenue taxes.

To cut off $120,000,000 of revenue from luxuries or vices would involve the necessity of raising at least $20,000,000 more than now from the necessaries of the people.

How can any Democrat favor such a policy as that ?

The internal taxes are no more " war taxes than is 30 per cent, of the present tariff taxes. The internal taxes have been cut off and cut down until only spirits and tobacco are taxed, and the revenue from this source has been reduced from $309,000,000 to $120,000,000, The tariff is still within 1 point of the war maximum, and it yielded last year $38,000,000 more than at the close of the war. Cut down the war tariff, too.

The Southern people have greatly increased their respect for the will of the majority since their disastrous " kick " in 1860.

A majority of the people of Atlanta having survives the contest." On the contrary, the prominent men on both sides are to meet in conference to devise the wisest plan for restricting the traffic within reasonable limits. and for securing observance and enforcement of the law.

This is the true American spirit : Fight out issues at the polls, and then acquiesce in the result and proceed to business.

THE MARCH OF MONOPOLY.

The monopolists have invaded New England, and are engaged in the congenial task of gobbling up everything.

The West End Land Company has a tight grip on every spoke in the Hub, having absorbed all the horse-car tracks in the city and suburbs. The Boston and Maine Railroad is swallowing rivals and connecting lines with unscrupulous greed.

About these and other similar scheme there is a distinct flavor of boodle. Monoply and corruption, in New England as elsewhere, go hand in hand, Thus proceeds the march of monopoly. It is establishing its stronghold in every State and every city. Nothing goes amiss in its insatiate maw. It has no conscience and therefore no scruples. Let the people apply the scourge of stringent law, and teach it the lesson of fear.

NOT A CLEAN SWEEP.

There are 55,157 post-offices in this great country. The Administration has made 85,828 appointments in the past two yearsby far the larger number on account of resignation, expirations of commission or the establishment of new offices.

This leaves nearly 20,000 of the old incumbents in possession. Surely the Republicans have no just reason to complain. It is a good ways from a clean sweep.

THE HIPPODROME BLIGHT.

The lack of interest in the BEACH-HANLAN race is the natural result of the lack of confidence in scull contests. Professional oarsmen have so often broken faith with the public that the public is inclined to ignore them in contempt.

Baseball maintains its supremacy amor sports largely because it is thought to be meetly conducted. When it begins to savor of hippodrome methods its decline will begin. It would be well for the diamond magnates to take this cold fact to Fair play, or no play.

THE DANGER STILL EXISTS. In the interview with JAY GOULD at Marseilles, published in the Sunday WonLD. they can only be detected by their ring. 'the wizard' observed that if the Treasury had not released some of the hoarded surplus ten feet beneath the earth's surface. The frog was last summer " we might have had a panie in rather stiff in the limbs when taken out, but soon New York, and that would have turned the scale against the Democracy."

buried near Jasper, Tex., years ago to prevent its falling into the hands of the indians, and a party Such a panic might turn the scales next of fifteen men has been organized at Jasper to The conditions for it exist in the continu search for it.

ing and increasing surplus. The people will not approve a policy of bond purchases at high premiums. There is no other outlet save in extravagant appropriations. To hoard means a panic. To spend invites the rebuke of the taxpayers.

The surplus should be stopped.

THE NEWARK THET-HUNTERS.

The haughty society of Newark has been entertaining an alleged " scion of an English noble family," who now appears to be one of Inspector Bynnes's distinguished friends.

'My lord" has suddenly disappeared, and, as usual in such cases, there has been simultaneous disappearance of some of the funds of the tuft-hunters.

There is not so much difference between bogus lord and a genuine one as might appear at first blush. A title is a pretension of superiority at the best.

The rich tuft-hunters of Newark should congratulate themselves that, though they have lost a few dollars, they have at least saved their daughters.

FIGHTING THE OCTOPUS.

The concerted attack on the outposts of the Standard Oil monopoly is proceeding with an encouraging vigor,

While still under a raking fire before the Interstate Commission at Washington, the unscrupulous Trust is called upon to meet a big suit for damages at Buffalo. The points involved in this civil action are the same that resulted last May in the conviction of several Standard Oil minions on the charge of conspiracy.

The facts conclusively established in these ases show that, though the Oil Trust controls $90,000,000 capital, it is not hampered by a cent's worth of conscience,

It remains to be seen whether the shackles of the law are strong enough to restrain this monster monopoly. If not, there should be some sturdy blacksmithing done at Washington and Albany this winter.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The charming mistress of the White House gave another excellent example to her sex as she sat calmly in her carriage yesterday when the horses fell on the slippery pavement, instead of jumping out at the first indication of danger, as so many women-and men, too -impulsively do.

Other ladies of course do the same sensible thing every day, without exciting comment But it is one of the penalties or pleasures of high station to be observed; and when a President's wife does the right thing in the right way at the right time-as it is the custom of the present "first lady" to do-the xample becomes an object lesson.

Mr. CLEVELAND is indeed a lucky man.

He is the administrator of a deceased Salemite's estate, who resisted the claim of a bar. ber for shaving the testator fifty-two times during his last illness, on the ground that decided in favor of licenses, Editor Grady, the work was unlawful because done on the leader of the "antis," telegraphs to THE Sunday. The Court made the estate pay, on the ground that the shaving was "essential to health and cleanliness."

> When the Masons put their shoulder to the wheel something generally moves. When the Masons' wives take a hand the combination is irresistible. So, of course, the big Masonic Fair will be a big success. Certainly, Freemasonry never shows itself in better light than when engaged, as it is now, in making provision for the poor and aged.

It will be time enough to stop the subway work on account of frost when the frost comes. The weather, not the calendar, should determine the matter. Give the workingmen a chance as long as possible.

If Mr. GLADSTONE, as stated, is unable to attend a London banquet, it is hardly likely that he will come to this country for the express purpose of confirming the announce ment of the knowing Buffalo individual.

Connecticut is agitating the question of the printing and distribution of ballots by the State. Let New York lead in the accomplishment of this important reform.

The nickel-hunting SHARPS will not get possession of Fifth avenue this year, but it would be just as well for the stage company to provide a reasonable amount of conveyance for Sunday.

Yesterday we had Indian summer, and tonight we are promised a touch of Indian winter from the blizzard-breeding West, And yet some people are not satisfied with the climate.

A dark blue felt hat had a mass of blue velvet bows and feathers in front. The rolled brim was faced with velvet and edged When the police throw sticks and stones with fancy braid. A lady in black wore a black silk beaver hat with high crown. The brim was faced with velvet, and a plain band of the same was around the crown. into house-windows, in reply to wordy taunts from the occupants, as they did in Dublin yesterday, the police become themselves the

A high-crowned hat was of gray felt, embroidered with a darker shade. The roll-ing brim was faced with black velvet, and against black velvet brims was placed a gray No teacher, not even experience, has been able to instruct a singer or an oarsman the A brown felt bonnet had the crown embroidered with cut brown beads. There were high bows in front of brown velvet, against which was placed the breast and tail of a bird of paradisc. right time to stop.

The doomed Crown Prince "has hope" again. The parallel with Gen. GRANT's case thus continues.

What does Brer BLAINE think of Brei Gould's honeyed words touching the present

WORLDLINGS.

Portions of Iowa have been flooded with coun

When Mrs. Clara Wheeler, of Hinesville, Ga.

returned from church last Sunday she saw an eagle circling over the house with one of her chickens in its talons. She hastened indoors, got her husband's

Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, is said to rival Gov.

Taylor, of Tennessee, as a fiddler. On one occasion at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago he took i violin from a darky's hands and played a lively breakdown, to the great delectation of the specta-

The Indian bucks on the Crow Reservation in dontana are said to have become entirely recon ciled to their defeat by Gen. Ruger's troops, but he women are still unsubdued and are making every endeavor to incite their braves to another

Johnny Burrus stood on the Court-House step at Columbus, Ga., the other day when a buzzard came sailing slowly by, and a man bet him a quarpebble and threw it at the bird, striking it on the Workmen who were digging a well in Ringgold

County, Ia. , found the trunk of a tree and half a bushel of walnuts at a depth of fourteen feet below he surface of the earth. A peculiar feature of the iscovery is that although the county contains con-oderable timber land, there is not a walnut tree

A large marsh near Switz City, Ind., which has migration South, was recently drained, and sportsmen say it is a wonderful sight now to see vast locks of ducks and geese circle around above their old resting place and then fly slowly away as i stamping ground of the mastodon, for every day or two somebody out there digs up remains of the prehistoric monsters. The most recent discoveries are at or near Touchet, and at Davenport. In each case the bones dug up were well preserved

They tell a story in St. Helena, Cal., of a pump kin which grew to such a size that when it split and made her home there. When she was found long afterwards she had given birth to nine little pigs, which were playing hide and seck in the vast

ABOUT TOWN GOSSIP.

The Manhattan Athletic Club will enter-

The Union League Club will give another exhibition of pictures by American artists,

Billy Florence writes from Montreal that his Canadian trip is the best he ever knew in

It cost Coroner Messemer $15,000, or the Excise Commissioner W. S. Andrews is the dude of the Board. He appears daily in a

Johnny O'Brien has pretty well recovered from his recent attack of congestion of the lungs. He says that his shroud has not ye been built—physically or politically.

Major Pond's office, in the Everett House is a curosity. It is filled with pictures of celebrites, valuable autograph books, and in teresting reminiscences of prominent people Bill Nye's impromptu speech was an instantaneous success at 'the Lotos Club enter tainment Saturday night. He made a hun-dred more friends than he had before he

"We are not going to let the old Diosecut Club die," said one of the members to-day. "It will be reorganized before long, on a new basis, and we shall have a new club house either on Upper Broadway or on Fifth

Miss Calista Doty, the pugnacious "woman's rights lady," is a dressmaker, and always wears faultlessly fitting dresses, Her sisters were very adverse to her joining Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake's sisterhood, but Miss Doty has a will of her own.

Broker A. S. Hatch, whose firm went to the wall for the third time in the recent raid on the bears, takes especial delight in a fine Maltese cat, which is his constant office com-panion. The feline beauty acts lately as if she sympathized with her master in his busi-ness afflictions.

Capt, Tom Sampson, the detective, is on of the most familiar forms of the most familiar figures downtown. His head has grown grav with his years of service as guardian of the Sub-Treasury, but his eye is as tright and his judgment as cool as when he won fame and medals in running down Confederate privateers during the war.

BONNETS AT ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S.

A dark heliotrope velvet bonnet had bown

A very neat bonnet was composed entirely of gray and brown feathers, with breast and ostrich plumes to match in front.

A black bonnet had a jet crown, and face trimming of scarlet velvet. Bows of black velvet and ostrich feathers in front.

A very stylish bonnet was of dark helio-trope velvet. The trimming was gold passe-menteric and pale yellow ostrich tips.

Anarchists have appeared in New Jersey. They should be tortured to death by being shut up in a in front of velvet and satin and ostrich tips to match.

for his full term, to make his last po-

Rev. Dr. Paxton's church is $8,000,000.

recesses of the agricultural cavern, nead and killing it instantly.

and of enormous size.

litical canvass.

full dress suit.

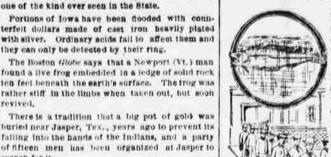

went there.

Avenue

ter that he could not hit it. Johnny picked up a rife and brought the bird down at the first shot.

A blood-red owl was caught in the woods hear How Codfish and Black Bass are Caught on Jacksonville, Il., the other day. It is the only one of the kind ever seen in the State.

F all the names given to resorts where pleasure is presumably to be found, the title of "Cholera Banks" is perhaps the least attractive. Still, three times a week two lines of steamers eater to the popular patronage and advertise the immense superiority of this region over all others for codfishing and black bass fishing.

Who has Who has not seen read know where the strange name originated, and how many thought how much more ap-and how many thought how much more appropriate a name might be given to this acknowledged home of the cod?

Where the name originated it is difficult to tell. There are a hundred answers ready, but the most popular is that when the cholera visited New York a lot of wealthy residents engaged steamer, sailed out into the sea, dropped a chor at this spot, and there remained until the scare was over. The banks lie about forty-five miles seaward from the harbor, midway between Fire Island and Sandy Hook, and a sail of three hours brings one there. There is no sign of land, as might one there. There is no sign of land, as might be supposed, and knowledge of the vicinity is the only guide. In cloudy, weather, when, signs are unavailing, the compass is the best guide, and then the lead is used to place the grounds.

Where the cod most frequents is partly rocky, and this is the only way of telling whether the bottom is a cod bottom or not. The lead is smeared with tallow or a substi-tute, and thrown overboard. If, when it is hauled up, grains of sand cling to the bot-tom of the lead, there is a sandy bottom, and tom of the lead, there is a sainly bottom, and if the lead is junctured, the bottom is rocky. Once the ground is reached the work of fishing begins. The boats are generally crowded, as many as 300 passengers being carried in a single trip in summer, while even now, late as the season is, each Sunday boat carries about four hundred disciples of lead Walton.

Izaak Walton.

Skimmer bait is used. When this has been told out among the fishermen at so much a toll, lines are east overboard and the work begins. With the right day and bait and tide luck generally favors the fishermen and fisherwomen, and cod weighing 10 and 20 pounds are frequently pulled aboard. The best part of haif a day is spent on the grounds, and then lines are taken in, the fish sorted and the steamer's bow is turned homeward. It is here that the fun begins. The unfortunate ones who gave their bait to shrewd cod who would not come aboard the steamer after it are much perturbed. They must bring a string of fish home whatever be the cost, and for the moment the after and forward decks are turned into embryo fish markets.

"I'll give you a quarter for the big one," whispered an unsuccessful fisherman, and before he has finished bidding he finds that he has paid a dollar for it, and is willing to buy more at the same price. So a large part of the cargo is disposed of, and the man who is $10 lighter in pocket, but twenty pounds heavier in fish, holds his head just as high as he walks ashore as though he caught his string of cod on his own hook.

The codfishing season is nearly over now, and with the exception of two more runs the The Mohican Club is undergoing a process The combined wealth of the membership of and with the exception of two more runs boats are through for the summer. MME. GERSTER'S WITHDRAWAL.

She Will Rest Her Voice and Her Company

Mme. Etelka Gerster will take a rest for a few weeks in order to give her voice the chance which she feels it needs. She says that she is suffering from nervousness to such an extent that, although her voice has always been in good form at rehearsals, it forsakes her as soon as she appears before the public, her as soon as she appears before the public.

Mine, Gerster sang at New Haven on Saturday night, and although some of those who heard her at the Metropolitan House said sheddid better at New Haven than in this city, it was apparent that she was not heard to advantage. Mr. Copleston, who engaged the prima doma for Mr. Abbey, heard her sing in Italy and reported that her voice was quite unimpaired. It appears, however, that he heard her sing in a room, and not in a hall. Mr. A. F. Dunlop, whose paper, the Stage News, is distributed gratis, is one of the most suavely courteous men. But there are vol-canic, Vesuvius-like strata beneath this calm.

surviving partner of the firm of Schwab & Son, upon a claim of $1,784,14. The firm's property has also been attached in the suit of Megros, Portler & Co. for the recovery of $1,990,78. The complainants allege that Schwab has disposed of his property to defraud creditors.

Thomas Osborne executed three promissory notes aggregating $13,100, payable to Henry A. Vanderbeck. Before they matured the payee indorsed them and turned them over to the Phænix Iron Company. The company presented them, but payment was refused. The notes were duly protested and the plaintiff has secured an attachment from Judge Donohue against Vanderbeck's property pending the determination of a suit for the recovery of their value,

The Cunard steamship Servia, which arrived this norning from Liverpool had among her passenmorning from Liverpool had among her passengers George A. Armour, Miss Attenborough, the Rev. E. M. Buss, Miss Fanny Carpender, Henry S. King, C. I. E. M. P.; the Rev. M. Rinzing, Mrs. Courtice Founds, John F. Saunders, Thomas Shillington, Capt. J. L. Spendlore, R. C. Struthers, M. Ygiesia and T. B. Lawrence. Among the passengers who arrived on La Gascoyne from Havre were Baron de Strave, Russian Minister at Washington; Commodors H. L. Slaven, Freadent of the American Dredging Company; Mrs. Slaven, the Rev. Alfred Engelbrecht, the Rev. A. Hattenburger, Mms. S. B. Townsend, Mme. Saulnier and Francois Waltz.

Brought a Family Quarrel to Court.

John J. O'Shaughnessey, an engineer, of 124 Fenth avenue, with his head swathed in bandages, nade a charge of felonious assault against his wife, Margie, this mornidg at Jefferson Market Court Mangle, this morning at Jefferson Market Court. He claimed that she stabled him on the forehead with a table-knife last night without the slightest cause. Mrs. O'Shaughnessey, who appears to be an inoffensive looking woman, said that her husband has not worked for the last three months, but had been constantly droub during that time. He abused her shamefully. Last night he attempted to strike her with a rocking-chair, when she threw a cup at him striking him on the forehead. She thought that her life was in danger at the time. She denied using a kuife. Justice Gorman held her for trial in $100 ball. A slender young lady wore a bonnet of gray felt, embroidered in gold, with a trim-ming of gold lace, and ostrich feathers in natural colors.

Wah Lee Beats a Woman.

Miss Julia Basso, of 227 South Fifth avenue, was besten and kicked by Wah Lee, a Chinaman, who beaten and kicked by Wan Lee, a Chinaman, who keeps a laundry at $47 South Fifth avenue, yesterday. She left a garment there to be washed, and when she called at the laundry yesterday. Wah Lee sttempted to pass a torn garmen on Julia, who refused to accept it. Wan Lee became curaged and struck Julia in the breast with his fist and kicked her. A policeman strested the Chinaman and this morning brought our before Justice forman at Jefferson Market Court, where he was held for trial.

Caught the Second Time

John McKegney, who Policeman Clark, of the West Thirty-seventh Street Station, says is a no-torious sneak-thief, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court to-day on a charge of having, with two other men, sneaked into the boarding-house of Mrs. Forde, at 290 West Thirty-nint street, and stolen an overcoat and a hat. After leaving the house McKegney, not content with what he had already secured, returned and, as he attempted to dark room with half a dozen of New Jeracy's famous mosquitoes. enter the house was captured. He was remanded

HIS SIN TOLD AT HIS COFFIN.

SENSATIONAL SCENES AT THE FUNERAL

OF HENRY PALETHORPE HAY. His Sons Declare That He was Ruined by Mother-He was a Brother of the Late Malcolm Hay-Singular but Straightforward Story Told by the Elder Son. WASHINGTON Nov. 27,-The funeral of Henry Palethorpe Hay, brother of the late Malcolm Hay, of Pittsburg, and former rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Rosemont, near Philadelphia, was interrupted yesterday in a most sensational manner. Mr. Hay had lived in Washington for some years, filling a position in the office of the First the announcement in Auditor of the Treasury and residing in the the announcement in family of Mrs. Lousia C. B. Wickersham in family of Mrs. Lousia C. B. Wickersham in Land of the Control of the Lousia C. B. Wickersham in family papers: "Codfishing-Cholera Banks?" How many who Le Droit Park. It was generally supposed that Mr. Hay was a bachelor. Even his associates at the office and his neighbors and friends in Le Droit Park had never heard him refer in any way to a wife or family. The gossips of the neighborhood talked about his marked attentions to Miss Helen B. Wickersham, the only daughter of his landlady, a very fascinating young lady about twenty-five years of age, and much speculation was indulged in as to the date of their wedding. When, therefore, the friends and neighbors gathered in Mrs. Wickersham's parlor about the open casket, preparatory to starting to the church, they could not have been more surprised if the dead man had risen from his coffin than they were man had risen from his coinn than they were when two frank, manly-looking young men, who had quietly entered the house, stood up beside the remains and the elder of them, turning to his brother, said:

"Here is your father, brought to this through these infamous women, and I want these people to know that we are his sons and have people to know that we are his sons and have been refused every detail as to the circum-stances of his death and funeral and concern-ing his spiritual welfare. I speak in justice to the community, which has been grossly deceived as to the relations existing between my father and these women, Helen B. Wicker-sham and her mother. They have wrecked a once happy family and have brought sor-row and irretrievable affliction upon a loving wife and affectionate children." ife and affectionate children."

The company was thunderstruck. At first they thought the young man was a crank, but his words were so straightforward that it but his words were so straightforward that it was apparent there was some foundation for his statement. A Mr. Stewart, of Philadelphia, attempted to stop him, reminding him that a funeral was not the place for such a speech, but the young man retorted:

"Blood is thicker than water, and we, this way's are have a batter right to stand heman's sons, have a better right to stand be side his coffin than any one else in this

While this scene was in progress Mrs. Wickersham and her daughter were upstairs putting on their wraps and preparing to go to the cemetery. The undertaker, fearing further trouble, closed the casket at once and arranged for an immediate start for the church. The two young men were about to cuter the first carriage as chief mourners. enter the first carriage as chief mourners, when Mrs. Wickersham objected, declaring that she had hired the carriages and they should not occupy them. They insisted that that she had hired the carriages and they should not occupy them. They insisted that they had a better right than she to follow the remains to the grave, and she threatened to send for a policeman, when a lady, who had heard the speech of the elder son in the house, interposed and took them to the heard the space heard took them to account the control of the cont the knoll, a short distance to the north of the church. The young men had sat throughout the service as near the casket as possible, and when the procession was formed they quietly crowded between Mrs. Wickersham and her daughter and held their place next to the re-

" IT IS A SAD STORY."

"IT IS A SAD STORY."

The elder of the two sons, W. H. Hay, was seen after the funeral at the National Hotel and asked about the occasion of his action at the house. He said:

"It is a sad story. My father was a clergyman in the Episcopal Church, and in 1883 was rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Rosemont, in the suburbs of Philadelphia, where the Wickershams then lived. In January of that year he deserted my mother and went to Cincinnati with Miss Helen B. Wickersham. They went to different places together, and the matter was reported to Bishop Stevens, of the Diocese of Suavely courteous men. But there are volcanic, Vesuvius-like strata beneath this calm. He is a fighter.

Little Bijou Fernandez, who is under engagement to Augustin Daly, is by no means a precoclous child. Her mother, Mrs. E. L. Fernandez, shields the girl very carefully indeed from all obnoxious influences.

"We are not going to let the old Blossom Club die," said one of the members to-day.

Club die," said one of the members to-day. When did Mr. Hay come to Washington?" It was while his brother was Assistant Postmaster-General. He came down here and tried to get a place, but my uncle would not recognize him or have anything to do with him on account of his desertion of my

DETERMINED TO ASSERT HIS RIGHTS. "Have these facts ever been known out-side of the family before?"

"Have these facts ever been known outside of the family before?"

"Oh, yes. In 1885 my mother was granted a divorce from him, and the ground alleged in the bill was adultery with Miss Wickersham. While the family were all away from home one time father came home and took all the furniture out of the house, and when I went up there last night to see his remains I recognized my mother's furniture that I had been familiar with ever since I knew anything. They refused to even let me enter the house, but I was determined to-day to assert my rights and to let the people among whom they have been living know just what kind of women these are that have used their influence to wreck my father's life and home. I understand that he bought the house they lived in out there and put it in Miss Helen's name, and he made a will under their undue influence and left all his personal property to her."

Death of Daniel R. Lyddy.

Daniel R. Lyddy, of this city, who got into un usual public notice through his brief connection with the granting of the Broadway surface railway with the granting of the Broadway stranchise, died at his home, 57 West Forty-fifth street, on Sunday. Mr. Lyddy was born in Ireland about 45 years ago. Thou receiving his education from the Jesuits he came to New York and began life as a lawyer. Subsequently he engaged in the ife as a lawyer. Subsequently he engaged eal estate business. When members of the real estate business. When members of the Board of Aldermen of 1884 were about to pass the Broad-way Railway franchise, Mr. Lyddy and his brother obtained as a language.

Charged with Highway Robbery. to have been concerned in the robbery of Berthold chott, in Battery Park, last night, was arraigned in the Tombs Police Court this morning. Justice Kübreth committed him without bail. Robbins claimed to be a canal boatman on the Robert S. Coleman, now in Atlantic Busin. Schott is a gardener, employed by a Mr. Hildebrand, in One Hundred and Third street Boulevard. He was knocked down and robbed of $4.

Benefits for Progressive Painters.

Progressive Painters' Union No. 1 will hold special meeting to-night in Clarendon Hall for the purpose of adopting the constitution and by-laws for the government of the new benevotent branch of the union. Under the arrangement thus made there will be a doath benefit for a wife and hus-band, and also a sick and accident benefit. One liberal gentleman contributed $500 to the new fond. THE HEARTH'S CHEERFUL GLOW.

You May Spend 812,000 on an Open Fireplace for that Luxury if You Want to.

PEN fireplaces are all the fashion now, and in the uptown spart ment-houses in course of crection they are universally used. Not only do they make a room look cheerful when the crackling logs throw out their logs throw out their sparks, but so beautiful has the workmanship become, that they are built for ornamental purposes. The styles are as varied as ingenuity can make them, and the prices keep company with the styles. For $8 or $10 one can pur-chase an open fireplace, and then again one can spend from $10,000 to $12,000 for this can spend from $10,000 to $12,000 for this luxury. The average price is perhaps $1,500. The material used is as varied as the style and price. Bronze, brass, copper, oxidized silver and even gold are used in making the outer pieces, the fenders and andirons, while Mexican onyx, mosaic and tiles inlaid with brass are favorite stock for the infilling and substantial work. Then polished wroughtiron and Berlin black wrought iron are much used in the manufacture of hallway fireplaces, as are terra-cotta work, wrought-iron and finished brick.

The latest thing in this line is a fireplace built to order for a Western capitalist. It is made of heavy ornamented polished bronze, with Mexican onyx mantel-shelf and Mosaic base. The sides are decorated with raised figures representing characters in mythology, while the background, made also of bronze.

while the background, made also of bronze, contains figures of implements of ancient warfare. Surmounting the mirror frame which accompanies the piece are equally beautiful ornamentations, while tiny heads, representative of historical characters, cap the front and sides. Price, $6,000.

Another cheaper fireplace is one made of royal copper facing, with an interior of similar material containing raised figures. A narrow screen of polished brass, with and transfer parts of the same parts of the irons to match, completes the piece: Another is one with a bronze surface and an interior of small tiles inlaid with brass. A heavy brass railing, with irons and tongs of similar material, form the set. A third beautiful pattern is made of onyx with brass trimmings, pattern is made of onyx with brass trimmings, with interior of the same material.

A beautiful fireplace is one made entirely of brass, two heavy screens of the same metal pendent from the top, parted at the centre and looped at the sides, completing the decoration of the front. Two small but solid brass elephants serve the place of the ordinary andiron.

LIKE OLD TIMES AT BILLY M'GLORY'S.

"Racket"-Mayor Hewitt Criticised.

Inspector Williams will investigate the new racket" at Billy McGlory's Armory Hall, which is worked on drunken customers, This "racket" consists in driving a sharp penknife under the finger-pails of such persons as fall asleep there. The "bouncer' is alleged to have done this early on Sunday morning. The Inspector will also request an explanation from the Sergeant in charged at the Elizazabeth Street Station of the remark he is said to have made when two men entered a complaint about the brutal act, and which was: "Oh, find the officer on post!" The police authorities say that the fact that

The police authorities say that the fact that Armory Hall is running again is an indication that something is wrong with the Mayor's system of granting theatrical licenses. The dive was closed by Superintendent Murray only after a siege of nearly two years, and after McGlory had been sent to the Island and a policeman in uniform was stationed nightly in the establishment. Three weeks ago a man named Hughes, a personal friend of McGlory's, decided to reopen the place. His efforts to secure a liquor license failed, owing to the unsavory report made by the police, but Mayor Hewitt issued a theatrical license. The proprietor claims that no liquor is sold, and shrewd pickets keep a close watch of the movements of the police. Supt. Murray and Inspector Williams are determined that all such resorts shall be closed and uniformed police will welcome all visitors hereafter.

all visitors hereafter.

Another complaint is made by the police against the Mayor in connection with George Kraus's place. They say that a report was asked on Kraus's application for a theatrical license, but that before one could be made the license was issued.

TRYING TO SUPPRESS THE NEWS.

The Saxony Government Opposed to a German-American Publication. George G. Block, editor of the Deutsche Amerikanische Backer Zeitung, the organ of the German-American bakers, was seen by a WORLD reporter to-day about the cable report that the police of Dresden, Saxony, had port that the police of Dresden, Saxony, say seized and prohibited the circulation of the paper in that city. Mr. Block said:

"It is not prohibited entirely; only the distribution of it. A regular subscriber can get it by mail but under the order of the Saxony Government he must not give it away. If he Government he must not give it away. If he does he is liable to arrest and punishment. My next number will have a note thanking the Government, and expressing the hope that it will be prohibited throughout Germany. I have been waiting for such an advertisement for some time; it is the best one that I could get."

"Why was companied to a note thanking the hope that I could get."

Why was your paper prohibited?" was

"Why was your paper prohibited?" was asked.
"I believe it was under the law which prohibits speeches and printed matter tending towards the inciting of one class of the community against the other," replied Mr. Block. "Under that law labor papers are suppressed and labor meetings are prohibited."
Mr. Block has been elected by Bakers' Union No. 1, to represent it at the Convention of the American Federation of Labor at Baltimore, Dec. 13, and at the State Branch of that body at A'bany, Jan. 17.

Joined His Partner in Jail. William Field, alias "Billy the Coachman," the eccomplice of William Thompson, allas "The Accomplied of William Thompson, analy The Kid," was arraigned at Jefferson Market Police Court this morning for having been implicated in the robbery of a gold watch and chain, valued at $160, from R. Smiley, of 124 West Tenth street, on Thanksgiving night. Thompson, who was arrested on Saturday, is aiready awaiting trial. Field was held in $1,600. Henry George Still in Politics.

Henry George was asked by a World reporter to-day if he had dropped politics and he answered; *No. I am just as much in politics as ever. There was no allusion to politics in my lecture before the Anti-Poverty Society last night because the sub-ject, 'Moses,' did not require any and took up the whole evening. But the Anti-Poverty Society is not a political organization, anyway." Father and Son Thrown Out On the Road.

Francis Hughes was driving with his son Philip. vho is five years old, on Jerome avenue, near One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street, yesteraway, throwing the father and son from the wagon. Mr. Hughes was injured about the face and arms and Philip received internal injuries. They were taken home.

Entered the Cabin to Play. Peter Weish, aged eighteen years, who lives in Sewaboy's Lodging House, was held in $1,000 ball in the Essex Market Police Court this morning, for being found yesterday in the cabin of the canal-boat No. 3,005, lying at the foot of Market street, East River. He has forced open the main hatch-way, but said that he went there to play.

One Hundred Years Old and Lost. Policeman Nolan found a wrinkled and decreps woman Aimlessly wandering about at Hester and Ludlow street on Sunday evening. She proved to be Sarah Nolan, who has just passed her one hun-aredth year and is in her second childhood. A general police alarm was sent out for her friends.

SPORTS OF TRACK AND RING.

SHORT DISTANCE "BEST-ON-RECORDS"

HELD BY SAM D. LEE. assau Athletes Happy and Ready for Election-To-Night's Convention of Skaters-Plenty of Sport for Amateurs-Jem Carney

to Have a Select Benefit This Week-

Weight Limits for Boxing. AM D. SEE, represent. ed in the accompany. ing cut in attitude for the start in one of his skating races, is a well-known amateur athlete, lately of the Brooklyn Athletic As. sociation. He has won over one hundred prizes for athletic perprizes for athletic per-formances, and holds the six records for short distance skating races. They are as follows: 75 yards, 8 8-5 seconds; 100 yards 10 1-5 seconds; 200 yards, 18 seconds; 220 yards, 19% seconds; 100 yards, backwards, 13% seconds; 150 yards, backwards, 184-5 seconds. See also holds three best on records for sack racing. They are: 50 yards, 9% seconds: 75 yards, 12 2.5 seconds: 100 yards, 16 2-5 seconds. His hur-dle and sprint running abilities are very well

The Nassau Athletic Club boys feel greatly encouraged by the result of their Thanksgiving Day games, as it proves that the amalgamation which has made the "Indians" what they are has been a success. The annual election of this club will be held on Dec. 15, and there will be a grand house-warming on Dec. 16.

ile and sprint running abilities are very

If any of the collar-and-elbow wrestlers now engaged in filling such newspapers as will print them with scare-head challenges desires a genuine money match at 135 or 140 pounds, a letter to the sporting editor The WORLD (evening edition) will secure it.

The well-known metropolitan billiardista, Sexton and Daly, with Heiser and Deery, and Pool-players Frey and Mauning, will assist at J. Randolph Heiser's Brooklyn opening this The National Amateur Skating Association will meet at the Grand Union Hotel this evening. Action will be taken on a number of important points connected with the pro-gress of this healthful sport for this winter.

Next Saturday will be a lively one for amateurs. The New Yorks will have a ladies day, the Manhattans will have a boxing tournament, the Seventh Regiment will have its great fall games in the armory and the Spar-tan Harriers will have their 120 lbs. boxing competition, Jem Carney, the champion English light-weight, returned to Boston yesterday, but will be back here on Wednesday. The private benefit to be tendered him has been entirely arranged and will take place the last of this week. It will be held in a room, and not over fifty persons will be present, but they will be the cream of New York's admirers of fistics. The wind-up will be between Carney and Jimmy Mitchell, of Philadelphia. Geo. Le Blanche and Jack Files will box also, as will Paddy Lee, Pete McCoy. Geo. Young and Joe Fowler.

J. R. B.—The following are the weight limits usual in boxing competitions in this city: Bantam, 110 lbs. and under; feather, 115 lbs. and under; light, 135 lbs. and under; middle, 158 lbs. and under; heavy, all over 158 lbs. In England light-weights can go in as heavy as 140 lbs. and feather weights can scale at 120 lbs. They go in bigger than that sometimes in this city. The limits set by the London Prize Ring rules are 8 stone (112 lbs.) for feather-weight, 9 stone 7 lbs. (133 lbs.) for light-weights, 11 stone 15 lbs. for middleweights, and heavy-weights all over 154 lbs. weights, and heavy-weights all over 154 lbs. Special competitions can be given at any

The Manhatan Athletic Club Cross Country Team will give an invitation road race with a mile run in, starting from the grounds at Eighty-sixth street and Eighth avenue on Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 7.30 p. M. A silver medal will be given to the first stranger in, and a pewter mug to the first member in. There will be a collation and musicale afterwards at the Club House on grounds. Mr. G. M. S. Sachs will present to the Suburban Harriers the championship colors won by them last April.

"The World's" Dollar Dinner for Four. Contributed Daily to

English Beef. THE WORLD by One of the Best Fish. Broiled Fresh Mackerel Known City Chefs. ROAST. Baked Sweet Potato

Coffee.

At to-day's market prices the material fo DESSERT. this dinner can be perchased for $1.

Good Things in the Markets.

There was a noticeable falling off in prices at Fulton Market this morning, especially in the poultry and game department, as might be expected after the rush of the past week. Fine Connecticut turkeys that sold Thanksgiving at 20 to 22 cents a pound were offered at 16 cents, while inferior fowls could be had from 10 cents up. The best roasting chickens sold at 15 cents, the range being from 10 cents up. Geese were from 16 to 18 cents and ducks from 12 to 18 cents, with a sold at 15 cents, the range being from 10 cents up. Geese were from 16 to 18 cents and ducks from 12 to 18 cents, with a good supply. Game was very pientiful, canvashocks selling at $3.50 a brace, red heads at $1.75, mallards $1 and ordinary wild duck at 75 cents a brace, while partridges and grouse could be had at 75 cents to $1.25 a brace, and plover and quall at $3 a dozen. Philadelphia capens are 25 cents a pound, rabbits 50 to 75 cents a brace, and venison from 20 to 25 cents a pound. The fish market was rather dull, but there was comparatively little change in prices. Fresh Kennebeck salmon were offered in small lots at 75 cents, frost fish and flounders 5 cents, Fresh mackerel sold at from 18 to 20 cents, conts. Fresh mackerel sold at from 18 to 20 cents, conts, hallbut 18 cents, bluefish, 15 cents, hallbut 18 cents, bluefish, 15 cents, smelts 12 to 18 cents, striped bass 15 to 22 cents. Little Neck claims 40 to 50 cents per hundred and oysters 75 to $1.50. Green turile was quoted at 18 cents apound and terrapin at $8 to $8 c a dozen. Meat was unchanged at 16 to 20 cents, lamb hindquarters at 12 to 16 cents, spring lamb at 20 to 55 cents, English saddie of mutton 18 cents, lamb hindquarters at 12 to 16 cents, spring lamb at 20 to 55 cents, English saddie of mutton 18 cents, seal culters at 25 to 25 cents, roast veal 18 to 20 cents, pork tenderloin at 18 cents and roasting pigs 48 $3.50 each.

In the vegetable market celery sold at 12 cents a bunch, squashes 10 to 15 cents apiece, pumpkins 26 cents apiece, sweet potatoes 20 cents a half peck, cranberries 30 cents a petatoe 20 cents a half peck.

bunch, squashes 10 to 15 cents apiece, pumpkins we cents apiece, sweet potatoes 20 cents a half peck, cranberries 10 cents a quart, lettuce 5 cents a bunch, egg plants 12 cents apiece, and mushrooms $1 a quart. Dutch Kills Ways Won't Do Here.

Policeman Bounoil made a charge of carrying a oncealed weapon-a revolver-against John J. Ryan, of Dutch Kills, L. L. this morning, at the Jefferson Market Court. Ryan informed Justice Gorman that he was a saloon keeper and hadresided at Dutch Kills for nineteen years. "I carry a re-volver for protection," he said, "as I have to walk a dark road of a mile and a quarter to resol my home. I always carry counderable money about me." Justice Gorman held him for trial.

Read THE WORLD'S story to-morrow evening

"The Only Sin of the Late Duchesse de C."